Prophecy (by Iain Mackintosh, Ian Turnbull & Ken Sutherland) is a full-length stage musical based on the legend of the Brahan Seer and the ill-fated House of Seaforth. The action takes place mainly in Scotland; on the Isle of Lewis, the Brahan Estates near Strathpeffer, and on the Black Isle. A brief interlude in Paris also features. The story is set in the third quarter of the 17th century, with a short excursion to 1815 and back.

Prophecy is based on the short, but eventful, life of Kenneth Mackenzie (Coinneach Odhar Fiosaiche), gifted with the 'sight' and looked upon as the Gaelic Nostradamus by many observers. There is no single authoritative account of his deeds, but the tale has been handed down in the Gaelic oral tradition over the generations.
